READING

G Read the article. Then answer the questions below.

A spelling bee is a very important school competition in the USA. In a spelling bee, school children have to spell words correctly, or better than other children. They prepare for spelling bees with the help of good dictionaries. This is important because in English there can be many different ways of spelling the same sound. Winners then go to the next level of competition outside their school. If they are good at local spelling bees, they can participate in the National Spelling Bee and win a prize. The first winner of an official spelling bee was a boy who was 11 years old!

1 What is a spelling bee?

2 Where does it take place?

3 What do school children have to spell?

4 Where is the next level of competition?

5 Who can participate in the National Spelling Bee?

6 How old was the first winner of an official spelling bee?

READING

G Read the article. Then answer the questions below.

Ana's new school is a primary school. In most parts of England pupils leave primary school at the age of eleven, and then they go to secondary school. Some pupils go to boarding schools, where they study and live with other pupils. They go home for weekends and holidays. In most British schools pupils wear school uniforms. Girls usually wear white blouses and skirts. Boys wear white shirts and trousers. Pupils often wear blazers with the name of the school. Sometimes they wear ties and caps. Some pupils don't like uniforms. They would rather go to school in their everyday clothes. Most of the time, however, pupils in the UK do not worry about uniforms. Marks are letters in the UK: A is for excellent, B for very good, C for good, D for satisfactory, and F for fail. We hope that Ana will get good marks this year.

G Read the article. Then decide if the sentences below are true (T) or false (F)?

Sophia is from Tanzania in Africa. In her village, many girls stay at home to clean the house and look after baby brothers and sisters. She is the first girl in her family to go to school. Every day she wakes up at 4 a.m. She milks the cows, sweeps the floor and makes tea. Then she walks to school. She has lunch at school, which is good because sometimes there is little food at home. In the evening she is very tired and falls asleep at 9 p.m. Tian Mi is ten. She doesn't live with her parents because they work far from her village, in a big city called Beijing. She lives with her grandparents, twin brothers and four cousins. On school days, she gets up early at 6 a.m. After school, she helps her grandparents on the farm or teaches her twin brothers to sing. She is like a mum to them. On Sundays she washes her clothes in the river. She misses her parents very much. She looks forward to seeing them on New Year's Day.
